1. What struck you most about the Bunn’s message on Sunday?
2. What are some key aspects of how Jesus sent out the seventy-two (or seventy) followers? Discuss what this meant then and now.
3. Do you feel that the harvest is plentiful in your community? How about the workers - too few?
4. Does this lesson teach that we only have to tell people about God and Jesus once, and if they don’t accept and obey we should write them off? Why or why not? Have you ever repeatedly witnessed to and prayed for others who eventually came to Christ (or were you that person)?
5. What was the reaction of the seventy-two to this assignment? Have you experienced the same?
6. What is the main blessing for the seventy two?

Live Out Loud

You don’t have to be a missionary and go to Brazil or Jerusalem to be a witness for Christ. This week intentionally seek out a coworker, friend or family member and talk about the Kingdom of God. Bring them to church with you next week.
